ORDER

23 CR 468 (VB)

Defendant Dwayne Johnson, who is represented by retained counsel in this case, has submitted a motion for a bill of particulars on his own, which he says is "to clarify the specific theory upon which the Government intends to rely." (Doc. #21).

The motion is DENIED WITHOUT PREJUDICE.

The Court will not accept motions or other submissions directly from a represented defendant in a criminal case. Defense counsel is directed to inform Mr. Johnson that he may not make such submissions, and that any further submission directly from him will be disregarded.
